

DATA DICTIONARY

Column Name	Data Type	Description	Business Relevance
Order_ID	String	Unique identifier assigned to each order.	Used to uniquely identify orders and detect duplicate records.
Order_Date	Date	Date on which the order was placed.	Helps analyze sales trends over time and generate monthly or yearly reports.
Customer_ID	String	Unique identifier assigned to each customer.	Used to track customer purchases and identify repeat customers.
Customer_Name	String	Name of the customer.	Helps identify customers for reporting and customer relationship management.
Age	Integer	Age of the customer in years.	Used for customer segmentation and age-based marketing analysis.
Gender	String	Gender of the customer (Male/Female).	Helps analyze purchasing behavior based on gender.
City	String	City where the customer resides.	Used for regional sales analysis and business expansion planning.
Product	String	Name of the product purchased.	Helps identify best-selling and least-selling products.
Category	String	Category to which the product belongs (e.g., Electronics, Grocery, Fashion, Furniture, Education).	Used to compare sales performance across different product categories.
Quantity	Integer	Number of units purchased in a single order.	Helps calculate product demand, inventory requirements, and sales volume.